AAMC Medical School Graduation Questionnaire Data for Regional Campuses

August 1, 2024

The LCME Data Collection Instrument (DCI) contains some tables that request data from the AAMC Medical School Graduation Questionnaire (GQ). The LCME asks that schools with regional campuses request campus-specific reports as well as school reports from the AAMC and include these regional campus reports with the school report in the materials provided to the survey team in the school's accreditation survey package submission. Regional campus reports can be obtained from the AAMC by request (GQ@aamc.org) and will be provided to the school if five or more students from a given campus have responded to the GQ. It is not necessary to adapt the DCI tables to incorporate regional campus data; the survey team will be able to refer to the reports, if needed, and include the data in the survey report to the LCME. If, through the school's self-study and/or CQI processes, campus-specific differences are noted, the school and the LCME would benefit from a discussion of these differences and the school's approaches to addressing them in the DCI and/or self-study summary.
